A Coming Debate—Lecture at the Library—The Week's Entertainments—A Great Grave Digger—Drunks—Tussel With a Dog—Fresh Personal

A few of those in the court room on Saturday when the case of the young man Fisher was called charged with killing the boy Christiansen by running over him with his automobile, were Rev. Father O'Connor, Henry J. Blakeman, Geo. O. Linn, George A. Porter, Mr. Dickinson, and a number of others.

It was reported on Saturday that Edward Judson, the young son of Mr. Judson of the Bridgeport Trust Company, had been taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. A trained nurse is in attendance.

Arthur Coe left town Saturday morning for a summer in Richmond, Vermont.

The exhibition given by Miss Bessie Houghton and her class in gymnastics, is spoken of by the young people who attended as very pleasing and satisfactory. After the exercises dancing was permitted and proved attractive.

Some day during the latter part of this week a debate will take place at the High School between the Sophomores and Juniors on the question of "Immigration." It is understood that the Juniors are in favor of restricting immigration, and the Sophomores will oppose the proposition.

A few of the gentlemen who attended the lecture by Prof. Jenkinson were Rev. Dr. Packard, Rev. George Farwell, Mr. Judson, David L. Rhoades, McLane Stevenson, Mr. Curtis, the president of the Village Improvement Society, and others.

Our active and ever on the alert sheriff killed a supposed to be mad dog a few days ago, right in the center of the town.

Thursday next at the library, all lovers of birds and those who wish to form an Audubon society in town, will have the chance to listen to a talk on birds and their domestic habits, by Edward Avis, a Massachusetts man who has lectured many times in New England and New Jersey. He has the reputation of being a rare bird mimic, and illustrates his talk with something like 100 stereoscopic views made by himself. The program includes a whistling with the violin; the spring courtship of our robins; the wood thrushes' evening concert; the woodland quartette; sparrow notations; the canary solo; giving songs and calls of the whip-poor-will, cardinal grosbeak, meadow lark, bobolink, etc.; the meadow trio; the wood pewee and the country church organ; night herons; and a few of the birds in the fields and woods.

Deacon Philo Haven met with quite a severe accident on Friday night while attempting to alight from a trolley car. He received a number of bruises and was unable to attend to his duties for several days.

Some of his friends rally him about visiting a well known hotel in Bridgeport where his business takes him quite often. But this is only an indirect joke.

Tomorrow there is to be a pretty wedding at the Presbyterian parsonage when Dr. Packard's daughter marries a gentleman from New York.

There are people in town who want a trolley on California street and Broadbridge road. Why this will be a spur run up Long Brook avenue as far as Tea Party lane?

There is a rumor that Miss Alice Lovell will find employment in one of the libraries of New York city.

It is announced that the "Improvement Society" can be secured by applying to Alfred Stacey. This will be good news to many ladies who have been wondering what had become of the Improvement Society.

Mrs. William Blaney returned from New Haven in time to hold her food sale on Saturday. A nice little penny was the result.

It is reported that a lot of Past Sacerdotes will be in town this evening.

The venerable Rev. A. V. R. Abbott had charge of the recent love feast at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Elliott W. Peck have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Penhallow.

Miss Edith Turner recently came to town from New York in an automobile.

There is a report that during the last 40 years no less than 2,000 of our well known citizens have been buried in Union cemetery. And Charles H. Mills has dug the graves.

There is a letter in the post office from Mr. Kravetski.

Fred Yates comes down from Waterbury of a Sunday and returns on Monday. He has a very enjoyable time while in town.

Two drunks recently arrested in town were Thos. Ferguson of Seymour, and Edward Higgins of Noroton. Why they come to Stratford to dip into the booze is an interesting problem.

Next Wednesday evening there will be strawberry short cake at the Devon club. It will be a practical love feast.

Clarence Bolster is reported to have recently visited Coney Island, where he had "a great time."

Miss Louise Wells has returned to Baltimore, and Miss Sallie D. Wells is visiting in New Rochelle.

Mrs. Marie B. French, of the famous Hard's corner, has sold a lot of land, 25 feet front on Stratford avenue, to Edward H. Beers.

A woman named Rose Feirebend has bought six acres of land on Stratford avenue from Lewis Beardsley.

Two visitors from Bridgeport, Patrick Foley and John Flynn, had a party at the home of Steuben Lewis of Honey Spot road, a few evenings since, and Sheriff Stagg arrested them and each was placed under bonds. There is an awful report that the dog was "mutilated." Whether it lost its tail or one of its limbs will not be known until the matter is sifted in the justice's court. But there are too many dogs in town, anyhow, and most of them could well be spared.

The Masonic Building Fund Association proposes to give a lawn fete some nice day this summer.

The prize winners at Mrs. Clinton's last whist were Mrs. Samuel Johnson, Mrs. Henry Meachen, Louis Bierce, Mrs. Frances DeLorme, Mrs. George Dorn and C. E. Atwood.

"Stick to it" was the pulpit theme in the Neighborhood church yesterday.

Nearly all the pupils in Miss Ruby A. Avery's room have had their names inscribed on the honor rolls.

On the evening of the 15th the String Orchestra, a local institution, proposes to give a dance at Red Men's hall.

It is not yet known if there has been any reduction in fire insurance rates since the new house house was built. But such was the expectation.

As on the 17th the sun will only be in "totality near the North Pole," few if any local residents plan to attend the eclipse.

FAIRFIELD

The Consumptives' Home—Who Ran in to Who?—Shakespearean Lectures—Deaths and Weddings.

The Clucus-Wood wedding will take place at St. Paul's next Saturday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, to be followed by a reception at the Clucus mansion at 4:30 o'clock.

Mr. Alonzo Acker is spending a few weeks at the beach in one of his new cottages.

Among the families which arrived at the beach on Saturday were the Wakelee, the Shiffin and the Pieter. These came for the season.

A number of our young folks went to New Haven on Saturday to see the baseball game between Yale and Princeton.

Friday last the Ladies' Aid Society gave a social at the home of Mrs. Charles Nichols.

It is understood in town that the residence of Mr. Samuel Gregory, on the highest part of Tashaway Hill, either has been or soon will be purchased by the syndicate of physicians who are fighting tuberculosis, for a home for consumptives. The price asked for the property is $18,000 and it was said in town yesterday that $17,000 had been offered. One report is that the place has already been purchased outright. It is an ideal place for a sanitarium, and commands a fine view. There is a rumor that the syndicate expects to begin operations with a capital of $128,000.

From all appearances the Rubber shop in town is rushed with work. For some time it has been shipping out press some three tons of goods each day.

The Carpenter's Union held a meeting on Friday night and transacted the usual routine business.

An interesting question for discussion is whether Col. Miller of Huntington ran into Mr. Kowalski's team, or whether Mr. Kowalski ran into Col. Miller's automobile. Some say yes and some say no. It is all according to the point of view one takes.

Mr. Clarence Nichols of Greenfield Hill is reported to be improving in health.

There is said to be a movement on foot to separate the officers of the Country Club from those of the Greenfield Country Club Fair. A few men do almost all the work for the fair, and it is thought the two institutions do not pull well together. The proposition is to separate the business interests from the social. It is thought that the officers of the fair should receive compensation for their time and services.

Work on the Plattville extension of the Fair road is making fine progress under the supervision of the Connecticut Construction Company.

Mrs. Joel Wiggins, aged 80 years, a resident of Greenfield Hill, died suddenly a few days ago from heart failure. She had outlived most of her relatives. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

Miss Helen Hotchkiss has found work in Waterbury and Miss Annie Hotchkiss in Hartford.

Edgar C. Abbott of Boston was in town looking over the ground in reference to giving a series of readings from Shakespeare. Not much encouragement was had at the center where Shakespeare is quite well known, but the inducement was found in Southport of sufficient strength to enable Dr. Abbott to give one of his renditions at the Pequot auditorium on the 14th inst., when he will recite "Hamlet," and "The Merchant of Venice." The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Susquehanna Village Improvement Society. On Friday, the 18th of June, another lecture will be given on "Othello."
